To Whom It May Concern

Re: Ulf Aslak s103072

Ulf Aslak followed in 2010 the DTU course 01025: Advanced Engineering Mathematics in which I conducted recitation sessions. This course is a new, experimental honors course designed for the students who want to know more about mathematics than just techniques. Because of the relatively small number of students I got to know, over the course of one semester, this particular group of students individually quite well.

Aslak is a bright, inquisitive student, cheerful, always well prepared, and always extremely thorough with homework. He very quickly acquired a remarkable grasp of the central points and techniques in the not always trivial material, and proceeded to get top marks at the written exam.

I rank him without any hesitation in the top 10% of students, and I give him my very best recommendation.

Sincerely yours
